

PLEASE READ BEFORE YOU BEGIN!

Ladies – we know how busy you are, but please can you do us a big favour and read the instructions carefully?

Thoroughly clean off any lotions, moisturisers or powder on your breasts. Avoid touching the silicone band too much– it will lose its stickiness and not work properly. For best results, wipe the silicone band and your breast with an alcohol wipe* before use.

Step One – Lean and position

Fit one cup at a time. Lean forward and, in a scooping motion, fit the breast into the cup. Make sure that the bottom silicone edge is sitting on the actual breast, not on the ribcage. Also, check that the top edge of the cup is straight.

Step Two – Fasten and adjust

Still leaning forward, gently pull the top band over the top part of the breast and attach it to the tightest fastening.

Step Four – Poke and pull

Stand up and see how the cup sits on your breast. If it looks baggy it may need some slight adjustments. Simply poke your fingers through the opening at the top of the cup and with the other hand gently pull the side band towards the back of your breast. Do this on the outside and the cleavage side of the cup.

Remember, it only needs small adjustments for great results.

Step Five – Uplift achieved!

Admire the amazing uplift compared to your naked breast. You will be supported all day and all night long. Now fit the other one!

Adjusters - The D+ Perk-Ups adjusters are reversible. You may find that fitting them on the outside rather than the inside looks much better for your particular shape. If you feel the band looks too tight, try fastening on a looser hook.

Afterwards - Remember that practice makes perfect – getting the perfect shape may take a little time at first. As your mother always said, if at first you don't succeed, try and try again. The same applies to the D+ Perk-Ups...they can be tricky to fit the first time. However, don't panic! The results are worth it, so if you don't manage to fit the bra perfectly the first time, don't worry and try again from step 1. Remember to first clean the band and breast again. This is unlike anything you may have tried before, so give yourself time to get the best results.

Care - Washing will renew stickiness. You should wash after each wear. Hand wash, max 40°C, do not tumble dry, bleach, iron, or use fabric conditioner. Air dry flat. Do not allow fluff or dirt to stick to the silicone otherwise you may need to wash again. Do not use on damaged or sensitive skin. Discontinue use of this product in the rare incidence of skin irritation. This product is not recommended for pregnant or breastfeeding women.
